

UNU MONDO – ONE WORLD

A Worldwide Party for a Fair Globalisation

The worldwide party UNU MONDO – ONE WORLD regards globalisation as a chance to realise human rights and abolish poverty everywhere in the world. To make use of this chance, it engages in global thinking and ideas from the concepts of solidarity economy and eco-social market economy.

The Ethical Base of ONE WORLD

ONE WORLD perceives itself as a political branch of the movements for a global ethic and an intercultural humanism – i.e. endeavours to acquire a minimum consent from diverse cultures on basic principles, which enable a harmonious coexistence of humanity. The basic principles and goals of ONE WORLD comprise the respect for all kinds of life, environmental protection and sustainable development, human rights, peaceful cooperation, global democracy (i.a. by the establishment of a UN Parliament) and dialogue between the religions and cultures instead of military “solutions”.

Esperanto

ONE WORLD regards Esperanto as the language equivalent of global ethic and intercultural humanism. As a neutral, easy-to-learn second language, Esperanto is serving international understanding and collaboration on equal terms. The existing languages (just as existing religions and world concepts) shall not be displaced. Today, ever more problems can be solved only by global collaboration; consequently it is important to build bridges. Esperanto already makes it possible for people to feel as world citizens now. It is part of a more than 120 years old humanist culture, because already its initiator, Ludwig Zamenhof, wished to tear down language barriers in favour of the aim that everyone should “see in his neighbour only a human being and a brother”.

Economic and educational policy

A global eco-social tax system should ensure fair trade, sustainable development and the conservation of natural environment. Projects to improve living conditions in the whole world, which have a chance to prosper, should be supported by sufficient financial means. Examples could be the establishment of micro-credit systems or rural development schools to educate domestic development assistants. Presently, a great part of humanity lack opportunity to acquire good education and contribute sufficiently to economic production. By developing human resources as yet left unused, creation of markets in disadvantaged countries, and diminishing ethnic conflicts and wars, the party ONE WORLD wants to enable global economic prosperity, from which – through fair distribution – all of humanity will profit.

Organisation

ONE WORLD was founded on 1 November 2009, in Wiesbaden (Germany) as a political association, which accepts members from the whole world. It already has representatives in 16 countries, ranging from Angola to Ukraine, and wants to participate in political elections all over the world. In Germany, ONE WORLD („Eine-Welt-Partei“) will participate in the European elections in 2014.
